STATE WHISKY TAX HELD TO CONFLICT WITH CONSTITUTION

Three Federal Judges Temporarily Enjoin Collection of State Whisky Tax—Case Goes to the Supreme Court.

Holding that the case of the Kentucky Distilleries and Warehouse Company was in many respects similar to that of the A. & J. Freilberg case recently decided, in which the State of Kentucky was enjoined from collecting the fifty cents a gallon liquor tax as in conflict with the constitution of the United States, Judge Arthur C. Denison, of Grand Rapids, Michigan; Judge of the United States Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit; Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the Eastern District Court of Kentucky; and Judge Walter Evans, of the Western District Court of Kentucky, Thursday in Federal Court at Lexington granted the temporary injunction asked for in the petition of the warehouse company.

The plaintiff must give bond pending an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, to which Attorney General Charles I. Dawson announced it would be taken by the State.

About $46,000 in taxes is involved in the case.

Arguments before the court were oral and very brief, merely the contentions of the distillers and of the State being presented, the former being represented by William Marshall Ballitt, of Louisville, former Solicitor General of the United States, and the Commonwealth by Attorney General Dawson.

The entire proceedings did not consume over three-quarters of an hour.

Judges Denison and Evans then vacated the bench and Judge Cochran resumed the trial of cases on his docket.

BURIAL IN LEWIS COUNTY.

The body of Mrs. Josie B. Roberts, who died Tuesday in a Memphis, Tenn., hospital following a surgical operation, was brought here Thursday evening and was taken this morning to Mt. Tabor cemetery in Lewis county for burial. Mrs. Roberts is survived by her husband and two children.

MISSISSIPPI HOME IN FURLOUGH.

Rev. Year Carpenter, Christian church missionary to Porto Rico, and wife, spent Thursday night in Maysville and left this morning for Fleming county to visit relatives. Rev. and Mrs. Carpenter are in this country on a short furlough.

39 CHARTER MEMBERS OF GERMANTOWN ENCAMPMENT

New Odd Fellows' Encampment Installed by District Deputy Dodson—Women Set Wonderful Example in Large Crowd.

Dr. J. A. Dodson, of this city, District Deputy Grand Patriarch, of the Grand Encampment I. O. O. F., of the State of Kentucky, together with members of Pisgah Encampment No. 9, went to Germantown Thursday evening to institute a new Encampment in that town which has been named Victory Encampment No. 47.

The evening was a most delightful one especially to the visitors from Maysville and one that by them will be long remembered. There were 39 charter members and the organization was started off in a very healthy condition and gives promise of being one of the liveliest encampments in this section of Kentucky.

While the institution of the new encampment was very impressive and enjoyable the visitors from Maysville probably enjoyed the great banquet spread by the good women of this community. Germantown has long had an enviable reputation for entertainment but the women of that fine community outdid themselves on Thursday evening and a more sumptuous feast was never spread in Mason county. Old hams and chickens were served on large metal waiters upon which the meat was stacked high. The menu consisted of everything good to eat and closed with two kinds of ice cream with forty-five kinds of cake, more or less.

Rev. C. W. Williams, pastor of the Germantown M. E. Church, South, was elected Chief Patriarch and Dr. C. M. Colvin, High Priest of the new encampment.

WILL MOVE TO LEXINGTON.

Mr. H. C. Politt and family are preparing to move from this city to Lexington in the fall to make that city their home. For the present they have their goods in storage and Mrs. Politt and her daughter will spend the summer with relatives in Lewis county while Mr. Politt is on the road. Maysville indeed is sorry to lose such good citizens.

FURTHER PASTOR WILL PREACH NEXT SUNDAY.

Rev. A. F. Stahl, former pastor of the Christian church, will preach at the local church on next Sunday morning for the last time. His family will move to Ohio on Monday and Mr. Stahl will leave on Tuesday.

From a printer's case to the White House will be the climb of Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican nominee for President. If elected, Senator Harding was born at Blooming Grove, O., November 2, 1865, and will be 55 years old this election day. His success in running a school paper resulted in his father buying a newspaper for him at Marion, O., which he still publishes—The Marion Star. He was an expert typesetter by hand and later on the linotype. His father, Dr. George T. Harding, was 76 years old the day his son was nominated by the Republicans. He also lives at Marion, O. Mrs. Warren Harding has always "stood by" her husband in all his struggles. When he was editor of the Star she ran the business office. Party blues have been dropped at Marion, O. They are pulling for "Warren Harding."

FIRE AT COWAN.

About 8 o'clock Wednesday night fire broke out at Cowan in the old store house once occupied by T. Alexander of that place. The building was situated across the road from Kegley's store and by a lucky change of the wind this store did not burn. The old store was vacant with the exception of some few articles belonging to the Farmers' Union. Aid was secured from the neighboring towns and the blaze confined to its origin.

COUNTY TEACHERS ARE TAKING EXAMINATIONS.

The Mason county teachers are taking their examinations at the court house today and tomorrow. It is expected that there will be many take these examinations as the increase in salary given teachers for the next year has called more of our young people into the profession.

MASON COUNTY WOOL IS INSPECTED TODAY.

Mr. Honlecker, of the States Experiment station, an expert wool grader, reached Maysville this morning and began the grading of the Mason county pooled wool which is now stored at the Carr building in Fourth street. This grading will probably be completed tomorrow.

LOCAL COLORED BAND REHEARSES MANCHENTER.

ALIENATION AND SLANDER CHARGED IN BIG SUITS

Bracken County Man Brings Two Suits Against Father-in-Law Asking $20,000 Damages.

Two suits pendings in the Bracken Circuit Court, each for $10,000.00 damages are styled Ray Porter Teegarden against Samuel Malus, Teegarden's father-in-law. One charges defendant with having alienated his wife's affections and persuaded her to live with him, her father, in preference to the plaintiff, her husband. They have a little girl baby about three months old, and the mother and child live with her father in Connersville, Ind. Teegarden claims this county as his home and Malus formerly lived in the Milford precinct.

The other suit is Ray Porter Teegarden against Samuel Malus, for slander, charging that Malus falsely charged Teegarden with having forged two checks on him, leaving the money in the bank to his own credit.

BOLSHEVISM WILL BE DISCUSSED THIS EVENING

Speaker Who Has Had First Hand Experience With Bolshevism Will Deliver Free Lecture Tonight.

The first of a series of free lectures on reconstruction subjects will be given under the auspices of the local order Knights of Columbus at the court house this evening and the public has been extended a cordial invitation.

Hon. D. Goldstein, of Boston, a man who has had much experience in dealing with Russian Bolshevism will discuss bolshevism and its cure. Mr. Goldstein is said to be an unusually good speaker and a close observer of things so that his lecture should be quite interesting to all. The Kentucky press in the cities where he has been speaking the forepart of this week say that his lecture is wonderful and a revelation to all who hear him.

A special invitation has been extended the members of the American Legion of the Leslie H. Arthur Post and it is expected that many former soldiers will hear him. The lecture is absolutely free to all and every citizen who wants to more thoroughly understand this curse which has torn Russia asunder and which is threatening to extend into other nations, should take this advantage to obtain some first hand information.

OFFICIALS BACK FROM TRIP TO LOUISVILLE.

Mayor Thomas M. Russell and members of the City Council have returned home from a trip to Paris, Lexington, Louisville and other cities. The officials have found that because of the increased cost in the operation of schools and the city departments, practically every city in the state is compelled to increase its tax levy for the new fiscal year.

GEO. W. PERKINS DIES SUDDENLY OF NERVOUS TROUBLE

Former Bull Moose Leader and Great Financier Dies in Eastern Sanatorium.

Stamford, Conn., June 18.—George W. Perkins, 58, retired financier, who for many years was a partner of the elder J. Pierpont Morgan, died early today in the Stamford Hall Sanatorium.

Perkins went to the sanatorium about a week ago, following what is said to have been a nervous breakdown.

Perkins was a friend of Theodore Roosevelt and other national figures. He was born in Chicago January 31, 1862. He was educated in the public schools of that city.

He entered the employ of the Chicago office of the New York Life Insurance Company, in 1877, becoming successively bookkeeper, cashier, inspector of agencies and superintendent of the western department.

He became second vice president in 1898 and was elected chairman of the Finance Committee of the company in 1900. In 1903 he was elected president. In 1901 he became a partner in the banking firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., retiring in 1910.

He was a leading Progressive during the 1912 presidential campaign. He was a director of the International Mercantile Marine, the United States Steel Corporation and other large companies and a trustee of Vassar College.

Acute inflammation of the brain caused Perkins' death, according to a statement issued at his New York office today.

The condition resulted from "complete nervous exhaustion due to intense and continuous overwork," the statement said.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at Riverside, N. Y., on the Hudson, where Perkins made his home. The funeral will be private.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

TENANTRY IS AWFUL IN THE CITIES.

There is no doubt that a change must come in home-owning in this country if the mass of our people are to be true blue, patriotic American citizens.

It has long been a matter of serious alarm that tenantry was increasing in the country. We know that a tenant cannot have the complete interest we would like him to have in the soil he works and the buildings he uses. Ownership alone gives the real interest that makes for continued fertility of his land and for upkeep and improvement of farm house and farm buildings.

It is the same, only with a different twist, in the cities. We have not greatly agitated ourselves about them, however, because we have carelessly felt that tenantry was the natural thing in the cities. But if it is the natural thing, it shouldn't be. The man with a five-room house and lot 40x125 is a good deal different sort of a citizen of this republic to the man who rents. Ownership counts.

Think, ye home owners, of the situation in New York City, of the 6,100,000 residents only 300,000 own their homes, or less than 5 per cent. That 5 per cent, is interested in good, orderly, patriotic government for obvious reasons. How many of the other 95 per cent, care about those things?

On Interest Days

That is when you can really appreciate the earning power of your money.

The first of January and the first of July are Interest Days. On these dates the sum your deposit has earned at 3 per cent, is added to your account.

It is surprising how small deposits count up when aided by this 3 per cent interest compounded semi-annually. Interest days are a practical demonstration of how your money can be put to work.

Small accounts are always welcome, at this strong, conservative Bank.

THINKS MODERN YOUTHS TYROS AT LOVE GAME.

Baltimore, Md.—"Making Love" repeated Geraldine Farrar, for it was indeed she, talking in Lou Tellegen's dressing room at the Academy of Music.

"Making love? The modern young man and young woman knows nothing about it. They do not know how to make love these days," Miss Farrar repeated. Lou Tellegen swore softly at a balky collar button.

"Modern representative young men or women, either on the stage or off, cannot make love because they have no the souls," Miss Farrar went on. "They lack the souls for lovemaking, because they have not been trained to soul responsiveness. Comedy—light farce—yes, but the deeper emotion—the soul, that can hear the call of passion, they lack."

"Love making, you know, is not a mere matter of enclaving the form of a man with one's arms and murmuring meaningless words. It is the sort of thing I do in 'Zaza'—a series of passionate meetings, leading up to final wild renunciation only possible in one greatly endowed with soul. In 'Alma's Putterly' it is a tender thing, but the wild passion and the tender loving all are the same. Capability for one means capability for the other."

SUES LANDLORD FOR $10,000 FOR DEATH OF HIS WIFE.

St. Louis, Mo. — Alleging that the death of his wife was caused by the owner's failure to properly heat a flat, Martin F. Crayley filed suit for $10,000 damages against the Belden Realty and Investment company of 107 North Ninth street.

The petition alleges that Crayley and his wife, Frances B. Crayley, in May, 1919, rented a flat at 4144 West Carter avenue, owned and controlled by the real estate company, which agreed to furnish heat.

Crayley asserts in the petition that the company failed to furnish adequate heat in the winter of 1919-20 and that, as a result, his wife contracted pneumonia, from which she died, January 30 last.

According to an old belief a woman who read the marriage service through in its entirety before her marriage was fated to die a spinster.

MAYSVILLE EVIDENCE FOR MAYSVILLE PEOPLE

LITTLE SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Will Bring to Chautauqua Two Musical Programs of Highest Order

One of the most worth while developments in the musical world in the past few years has been the increase in the number of instrumental quartets and larger groups. Concert music is taking its place in the hearts of the American audience. Lieurance's Little Symphony, a group of eight musicians, is one of the modern groups which has contributed so largely to the popularizing of the better class of music. Years ago "symphony" or even "concert" to the average American spelled "horridom." But Lieurance's Little Symphony has proved itself. Sarah Requa Vick, contralto, will appear this summer on the program of the Chautauqua with Lieurance's Little Symphony.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES

Poor Excuses From the White House

"Children," called Uncle Ted to Jack and Ruth who were playing on the front porch. "Come out here in the swing and I will tell you another story."

"Hurrah!" yelled Jack as he hurried down the steps.

"Wait for me, wait for me," called Ruth, scampering after her brother.

"I'm going to tell you something that happened some time ago, but which is both interesting and important for you to know," began Uncle Ted, after they were all settled in the big swing. "On the 27th day of last month two important things happened in the Capital of our country, Washington. President Wilson sent the joint resolution of Congress, passed in order to make peace between the United States and Germany, back to the House of Representatives WITHOUT his signature, which is necessary in order to make it work, unless passed over his head. With this he sent a message giving HIS reasons for not signing this plain and proper resolution passed by the Senate and House. His stubborn action in refusing to sign this resolution keeps us technically at war with Germany."

"Why wouldn't he sign it?" asked Jack.

"Wait a minute, Jack, and I'll tell you. The second important thing that happened on May 27th was the action of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in refusing to grant Mr. Wilson's request for a mandate for Armenia. The majority of the Senators on this committee believe we have enough troubles of our own without going to Armenia for more."

"Now to get back to President Wilson and his message vetoing the Peace resolution."

"What does 'veto' mean?" asked Ruth.

"To veto means to turn down. The President vetoes a bill when he refuses to sign it. When this happens it goes back to where it started, either the House of Representatives or the Senate, and in order to become a law two-thirds of both Houses of Congress must vote for it. If they do, the bill or resolution becomes a law without the President's signature. When the Peace resolution went back to Congress there were not enough votes to pass it over Mr. Wilson's head, so it is dead and there still is no Peace. But the action of Woodrow Wilson stands just the same, and his weak and insufficient reasons should be studied—I say studied because he has laid the blame for the delay of peace at the door of the Senate, when the blame rests upon his own shoulders—simply because he places his intelligence and reasoning power above the majority of those men elected to sit in the highest law-making body in the world.

"The one thing about these two events for which I am thankful is that the people will have to pass upon the whole problem. And when it is left to the people the result will be to uphold the Constitution of the United States and the teachings of the fathers of this country. In Mr. Wilson's message he said he could not sign this resolution because he wouldn't have anything to do with an action which would place ineffable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United States." All of which sounds nasty but means nothing. He made no new arguments nor did he say anything which could be used in favor of the world club plan. He simply doesn't like the resolution idea because it would not bring peace in the way HE WANTS IT, not because it wouldn't bring peace. He did not say anything about the right of Congress to make peace in this way. He knows Congress has that right under the Constitution. Because the resolution did not consider or make mention of the now dead fourteen points he thinks it would place the United States in the position of turning its back on Europe. But how about the treaty itself? It certainly leaves out many of those points which Mr. Wilson so gallantly carried to Paris. There is no mention anywhere, either in the treaty or the world club plan, of freedom of the seas.

"When the resolution was returned Congress was not very much excited to pass it over his head because the whole matter will very soon go before the people. The most important part, to me at least, about the veto, is the fact that it shows that Mr. Wilson has not another new thing to say for his world club. It has all been said and when the people vote they will decide that in our relations with Europe we should keep free from entangling alliances with other countries, so that we can act quickly and well, as we have in the past."

"As to the refusal of the Senate action in refusing to give a mandate for Armenia, the interesting and important fact is that it shows the large number of Democrats who are opposed to such action. The President's proposal regarding Armenia asks for action by this country as a member of the world club when the country is NOT a member. Mr. Wilson acts just as though he thought the United States was going to join the world club, and up until this happened most of the Democrats in the Senate thought the same. But many of them are changing their views on the matter, because it is getting close to election time and they must realize that when the matter

GERMANY TO PAY NO FIXED SUM, IS LATEST PLAN.

Paris. — Plans by which a fixed sum would be decided upon for Germany's payments in reparation to the allies will probably be abandoned, says the Echo de Paris, which asserts the supreme allied council will revert to the system of "extensible annuities" by which Germany may cancel her war debt.

This plan was discussed at the meeting of the supreme allied council at San Remo.

Postponement of the allied German conferences at Spa, which is scheduled for June 21, is probable, the newspaper declares.

Premier Millerand sent the Swiss government a note assuring it that the question of changing the seat of the league of nations from Geneva had not been raised.

It was announced from Berne on May 28 that Switzerland had addressed a note to President Wilson and to all members of the league of nations favoring the retention of Geneva as the seat of the league. Before it was known definitely whether Switzerland would join the league, which she recently decided to do by a referendum vote, the hall Leuven agitation of the question of selecting another city as the league's headquarters.

"IN THE DAY'S NEWS."

Sir George H. Perley, whose attendance at the international financial conference now in session at Genoa is evidence of Canada's increased participation in world affairs, has been Canadian High Commissioner in London since 1914. He was born in the United States and is a graduate of Harvard University. Since 1863 his home has been in Ottawa, where he is associated with most of the commercial and financial institutions of the capital. His public career dates from 1904, when he was elected to the Dominion House of Commons. He was re-elected in 1908, and in 1911 and on the foundation of the Borden Government, entered the cabinet as minister without portfolio. In 1912 and 1913 he administered many departments of the Government during the absence of his colleagues in the cabinet. In the late war he rendered valuable services as Canadian overseas Minister of Militia.

is put up to the people they are going to vote against anyone for President who is for it. The very fact that many big Democrats are afraid to leave the matter to the people is shown by what William Jennings Bryan has said. He doesn't want the world club or treaty to be an issue in the campaign. He even goes so far as to say this, "No party — least of all, the Democratic party — can afford to claim for a minority of the Senate the right to declare the policy of the nation."

"But, children, it won't be long until the candidates for both parties will be named, their stand on the world club made plain, and then it will be up to the people when they vote, to decide the whole question."

ON THE FARM IN KENTUCKY

Kentucky needs more silos in order to feed more livestock easier and cheaper and easier. Particularly in a year when the farmers should not doubt how the late planted corn crop should be used. If the frosts come late in the fall the corn will be allowed to mature all right; but if the growing season should be a short one the man with a silo in the safest position. At present the silos in the state would take care of only a very small portion of the corn crop and if the average farm income from Kentucky is considered with the farm income from the states having the greater number of silos, the size of the income is greater in the case of the later. Livestock feeding or dairying does not always give a guaranteed profit in a year's time; but when considered over a period of years it is profitable, and when the fertility of the soil is considered it becomes one of the best systems of farming. Information concerning the various kinds of silos and approximate cost can be secured from the College of Agriculture, Lexington, Kentucky.

Have Succession Crops in Your Garden.

No garden can serve its greatest use to the family unless a succession of crops is provided throughout the entire growing season. By succession crops we mean that as soon as one crop is harvested, another should be planted; for example, sugar corn makes an admirable succession to early peas. Several succession plantings of beans should be made, and the supply of beets, lettuce, radishes, etc., can be made to last practically throughout the season by succession planting.

Big Power Units of Farm Work Fixed.

Horses and mules are considered plentiful; but labor is very scarce. Therefore, the farm engineering department of the College of Agriculture is recommending the using of large power units as a means to help solve the farm labor problem. Five mules and one man on a gang plow can plow four acres in a ten hour day, while one man and two mules will plow about one and one-half acres in a ten-hour day.

Flea Beetle Is Injuring Grapes.

A small glossy blue beetle is doing much damage to the grapes in practically all sections of the state of Kentucky. These insects destroy the leaves and lay eggs in the crevices at the base of leaves and on the stems. The eggs hatch in a few days producing a sluggish grub which continues to damage both the vines and the fruit. They are not a new insect, but appear rather periodically so that it is impossible to tell just when to expect them. The College of Agriculture is recommending the use of arsenate of lead at the rate of two pounds of powder to fifty gallons of water as a means to control these insects.

McADOO IS REPORTED TO HAVE WITHDRAWN

Delegates of Western States Are Said To Have Been Told Not to Nod Him at Convention.

San Francisco, June 18.—William G. McAdoo is reported to have sent a message to the western delegates to the National Democratic Convention, instructing them not to vote for him under any circumstances, as he had fully made up his mind not to accept the nomination for the Presidency.

The message was said to have been a verbal one brought by a western delegate, who said he received it from McAdoo personally in the East.

The liveliest discussion was going on today among delegates and officials over the outcome of Gavin McNab's call for an "association" of delegates of the nine western states before and during the convention.

J. Bruce Kremer, Vice Chairman of the National Committee, who will call the convention to order on June 28 and whose state, Montana, will be included in the nine Western states that are to present a united front.

GYM AT NORMAL IS USED FOR SLEEPING.

Richmond, Ky., June 18.—The influx of school teachers, which was evident the last of the week, has increased to such proportions at the Eastern Normal school that it was decided to convert the gymnasium into sleeping quarters for the present, which was done. The opening of the summer school on Tuesday is the cause. While it was expected there would be a goodly number, it was not believed the list would be nearly as extensive as at present—and they are still coming in. The matter of registering, usually the most important feature of the new arrivals, has become a secondary consideration, since the first thing is to look out for quarters. The city has been scoured, and there were many pretty school misses late Monday night walking the streets for some time, until places were provided for them. In many instances no accommodation could be secured with the result that the newcomers were forced to return to the school.

For speed and ease in scouring pots and pans, use SAPOLIO—the effective, economical scouring soap.

WORTH S. PETERS, Pastor.

Church of the Nativity.
To the Faithful.—The Church of the Nativity (Episcopal) is without a rector and in the near future Bishop Burton will be here for a visitation, meanwhile it is his earnest wish that the congregation keep together and attend the prayer services on Sunday mornings. The older communicants of the church realize the importance of this, and the younger members are asked to bring a friend. The service each Sunday morning until further notice, will be conducted by Mr. Harry Curran and will begin at 10:45 and close at 11:30. If each member is faithful, what richer blessing can be asked, than the one promised when the good Bishop reverently says the following prayer, as the candidates kneel at the chancel rail during the confirmation service? "Defend, O Lord, this thy child with thy heavenly grace; that he may continue thine forever and daily increase in thy Holy Spirit more and more, until he come unto thy everlasting kingdom, Amen." We hope every member of the Parish will join in the spirit of this prayer—come to the "House of God", worship Him, leaving the cares and perplexities of life and gain strength and courage for the daily duties.
